

Jen Nelson
Seven Generations Ahead

Jen Nelson works for Seven Generations Ahead as a zero waste expert. She works with communities, institutions, businesses, schools, events and residents to develop sustainability goals and to take those goals from idea to action. This includes strategic planning, waste and cost analysis, outreach, education and more. Jen is a founding board member of the Illinois Food Scrap Coalition, working to advance food scrap composting through policy and infrastructure change, and she leads the Wasted Food Action Alliance.

